Paying more for less? While student fees skyrocket, programs and courses are slashed. Welcome to UC, your education begins here.

Paying more

Student fees have increased 300% since 2001. Just last year the UC Regents approved a 32% fee increase, and they are already considering another double-digit increase this year.

Getting less

Class sizes are increasing. Courses and services are being cut. Students may not be able to graduate on time. We are losing diversity.

Subprime lending alive at UC

Students are taking out record levels of debt in order to pay their fees. Many spend decades struggling to pay it off.

Call to Action on October 7th Rally 12pm at Sproul!

Students, faculty, staff and community members will join together on this national day of action to defend public education and demand that the UC administration stop layoffs, program cuts and fee hikes, and provide quality, affordable, accessible education for all!

Last year students, parents, faculty members and staff all joined the fight to save UC.

Hold UC Executives Accountable: After years of scandals, the state is finally forcing UC's books open through a major public audit to uncover the extent of waste, fraud, and abuse within the UC. It's time to hold UC executives accountable. Stay tuned for reports from the state audit and spread the word! Get more info at www.ucwatch.org

Alternative Commission on the Future:

Proposals by UC's Commission on the Future would limit access by reducing enrollments, shift costs to students through fee increases, and erode quality by reducing teaching staff and rushing degrees via online courses. The Alternative Commission on the Future has better solutions - check them out at: www.ucaft.org/content/alternative-commission-proposals-future-uc

Tax Big Oil: Legislators are proposing a tax on California oil production that would raise about $2 billion for state colleges, community colleges and universities annually. California is the only major oil-producing state that lacks a natural-gas and oil severance tax.
